INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR
Architecture and Pedagogy in dialogue
Reggio Emilia, Italy
October 10-13, 2007

The International Seminar “Architecture and Pedagogy in dialogue” will offer the opportunity to build a relationship among Pedagogy, Design and Architecture with the contribution of educators, designers, architects at a local, national and international level.

The International Seminar has also the goal to give a contribution to the Reggio Emilia permanent research on the environment for young children.

Ecological, social, cultural, political aspects of an environmental education, physical space and the importance of organization among space, materials, furniture, children and adults will be part of the programme.

The role of the community and the complexity of the different contexts will characterize the work that will be built together.

The programme of the International Seminar will also include:

- Exchanges of experiences between the participants and the protagonists of the Reggio Emilia experience on the topics of environment, pedagogy and architecture
- Visit to the town and cultural places of the town of Reggio Emilia
- Visits to the Reggio Emilia Municipal and Cooperative Infant-Toddler Centres and Preschools
- Visit to the International Centre Loris Malaguzzi
- Visit to exhibitions

The organization of the days will be based on plenary sessions, lectures, presentations, discussion groups and workshops.
